

The Coptic Orthodox Diocese of Sydney & Affiliated Regions was honoured to host the Inaugural Coptic ANZAC Memorial Prayer Service.

We gathered in solemn remembrance to honour the courage, sacrifice, and enduring legacy of the ANZACs — the men and women who gave their lives in service of freedom and peace. As a Church with deep roots in Egypt, where ANZAC troops trained during the First World War in 1915, this occasion carried a profound historical and spiritual connection between our two nations. We were deeply honoured by the presence of distinguished leaders and dignitaries who joined us in prayer and reflection, including Kellie Sloane MP - NSW Liberal Leader, Mark Speakman Mp, Senator Jess Collins, David Moncrieff MP - Member for Hughes, Eleni Petinos MP, Maryanne Stuart MP - Member for Heathcote, Joseph La Posta, Lorraine Finlay, Inspector Kelly Dale, NSW Police, and Angelo Bilius. We extend our sincere thanks to all who attended and contributed to this meaningful and prayerful gathering of unity and remembrance.
